Course Overview

The purpose of this course is to provide English 3 students opportunities to engage in learning using texts of appropriate complexity, integrated language arts study in reading, writing, speaking, listening, and language for college and career preparation and readiness. Time will be given in class to complete all assignments.

Classroom Procedures

Come to class prepared to begin class, there will be no trips back to your locker, and please take care of any personal business before coming to class; phone calls, bathroom, or what have you. Cell phones must remain off and out of sight during the class period.

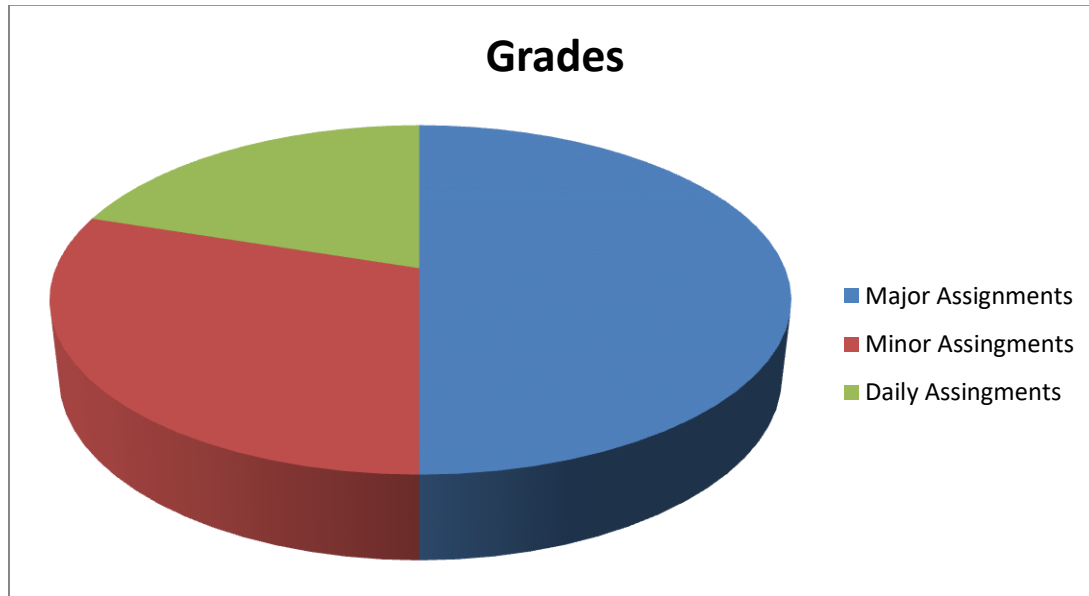

Evaluation/Grades

Grades are indicators of what students know and are able to do. Grades in English class are based on experiences that indicate student learning, such as essays, projects, presentations, and demonstrations. Rubrics will be provided, as will ample opportunity to practice skills that will be tested, in the format that they will be tested. Students are expected to turn in their best effort, grades will reflect effort.

50%: EVIDENCE OF LEARNING/MAJOR ASSIGNMENTS (essays, projects, presentations, and tests)

30%: COMPLETION/MINOR ASSIGNMENTS (effort, practice, participation, etc.)

20% : DAILY ACTIVITES

Plagiarism

Plagiarism is the act of passing off as your own the words or ideas of others without crediting the source. This includes, but is not limited to: taking passages directly from texts without quotations; cutting and pasting from the Internet without quotes or citations; paraphrasing another's ideas without citing the source; purchasing or downloading complete or partially complete papers and attaching your name to them; copying homework.

The consequence for plagiarism varies with the offense: a minor offense that appears to be accidental may result in a warning and an opportunity for revision; a major and intentional offense will result in a non-negotiable zero on the assignment or a referral for academic dishonesty.
